PROSPECTUS

OF

St. Stanislaus Commercial College

[CHARTERED BY THE STATE LEGISLATURE,]

BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS.

This Institution, which has been successfully conducted by the Brothers of the Sacred Heart, since 1855, is pleasantly situated on the shores of the Gulf, commanding a fine prospect, and enjoying the advantages of sea breeze during the summer months. The spacious buildings, the well shaded play grounds, and the opportunity for sea bathing afforded by the Gulf, with the well-known salubrity of the place—all concur in making the College a delightful retreat, admirably adapted to promote the health and comfort of its numerous pupils.

The special object of the Institution is to prepare young men for a Commercial state of life.

The system of government, though strict and uniformly requiring compliance with the established discipline, is mild and parental. The students, being at all times under the supervision of a Prefect, aided by one of the Professors, infractions of the rules are in a great measure prevented.

The religious and moral instruction of the pupils is attended to with the greatest solicitude.

No student will be retained whose morals are known to be corrupt, or whose influence might prove prejudicial to his fellow students. Pupils of all denominations are admitted, and their religious opinions unrestricted.

The scholastic year commences on or about the 15th of September, and ends about the 15th of July.

Pupils are received at any time of the year. The age of admission is from seven to sixteen years.

Reading Circle.

RECOGNIZING the value of a regulated course of reading in the scheme of a polished education, the Faculty has opened to the students the College Library, which contains upwards of 5000 volumes of reference. The students have daily access to their own library of standard authors. One of the professors directs the reading and, as far as is consonant with a reasonable liberty, outlines the authors to be read according to the needs of each pupil.

All students in the advanced classes are eligible to membership, and an hour each evening is set aside for this purpose.
